

SHARE YOUR WW1 STORIES at New Wimbledon Theatre Studio

WHEN: February 4th 2014 10:30am-4pm,

WHERE: New Wimbledon Theatre Studio, The Broadway, Wimbledon SW19 1QG.

Did you have a family member who fought in the Great War, served as a nurse, or who experienced the War on the Home Front? Have you kept pictures, letters, postcards or souvenirs relating to World War One? If so, we want to hear from you!

Age Exchange, London's leading Reminiscence Arts organisation, is running a London wide HLF memory gathering project on family memories on the First World War. Together with New Wimbledon Theatre, Age Exchange will be recording, photographing and digitising any memories and memorabilia you want to bring along.

Your story will be added to the Europeana 1914-18 International Archive, telling the untold stories of WW1 and how it affected the lives of people in Merton. It will also inspire a new theatre production to be performed at NWT in 2014 by local young people and may be included in a major touring exhibition.

On the day there will be: Music and songs from the period; A photographic exhibition of Merton memories from World War One; Tea, coffee and cakes.

You can book a 30 minute slot including photographing and scanning material in advance to tell your story by contacting Andrew Alty on 0208 545 7909 or by email at andrewalty@theambassadors.com or just come to New Wimbledon Theatre Studio with your photos and memorabilia on February 4th.

No story is too small. Please join us and help make sure your stories live on!
